The Scandinavian style is known for mastering wood furniture; creating simple, beautiful and durable pieces. Designed by Ulrich Heegaard, this table introduces the warm element of wood mixing it with marble to create a balance of textures that enhances any stylish environment.

Inspired by the Scandinavian nature, POUL frame resemblances the antlers of a reindeer: strong, admirable, and safe. The tabletop has a singular shape: based on a rectangular table, the sides have been curved in an oval shape for a softer appearance and to match with the bent wooden work of the frame.
